1. In our memorandum of 12 July 1956, the screening of Agency military reservists was described as completed in accordance with the recommendations made by an Ad Hoc Committee named by the Secretary of Defense to consult and report on CIA/Defense military manpower problems. This screening is being maintained on a current basis by administrative arrangements between the military departments and the Agency.

2. By way of review, you will recall that our military reservists are carried on control lists in three mobilization categories based on proposed utilization in event of national emergency. The category which is of particular interest in connection with your inquiry of 5 February 1957 (Reference a) is the second category, namely reservists to be made available by the Agency to the military department for duty with the parent service in event of national emergency. None of this category are carried on the Agency's emergency relocation lists.
